

Abstract

Soy sour cream compositions together with methods for preparation are disclosed, such compositions utilizing a soy constituent and thermophilic bacterial cultures to provide a sour cream composition having the organoleptic properties of dairy sour cream and the health and nutritional benefits of soy. The soy sour cream compositions of the present invention also exhibit increased shelf life and room temperature stability over traditionally prepared dairy sour cream products.